Word to Republicans

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a statwart Republican press. The Repubtican who reads or otherwise helps to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of his own party newspapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

Unanimously subscribed to by the National Republican League.

J. S. CLARKSON, President. A. B. HUMPHREY, Secretary

THE MAYSVILLE PUBLIC LEDGER gives this partial information to its readers: The American Tin Plate Factory of Elwood, Ind., has been dedicated "as an American industry." and Governor McKinley was the orator of the occasion.

In response to a telegraphic inquiry from the President, as to the extent of powers conferred on the Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital Service and the Secretary of the Treasury, with the President's approval, to make quarantine regulations with reference to immigration from infected ports, Attorney General MILLER has submitted an opinion. He holds that, consistently with state laws and regulations, it is entirely competent for Federal regulations to impose additional restrictions, and hence, also, the imposition of an additional period of quarantine or the total exclusion of all "vessels or vehicles coming from any foreign country where any contagious disease may exist, or vessels or vehicles conveying any person or persons, merchandise or animals s3 oo affected with any infectious or contagious disease, from any port in the United States," is within the powers conferred Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses passed 2,042 private pension bills. Of these 292 were vetoed either by message or by pocketing, and 227 became laws by lapse of time without his approval, so that he approved only 1,518 of them.

The last Republican Congress passed 1,377 private pension bills, every one of which received President Harrison's approval and became a law. But then came in the present Democratic Congress with its overwhelming Southern control on Democratic side. As a result there were weeks following weeks when no private pension bill could ever obtain consideration in the House, to say nothing of being passed. No quorum could be mustered in a House with a Democratic majority of 140 to consider bills to pension old soldiers. It was only on the last private bill night of the session that the House, in a panic at the pen sion record it would have to go before the country with, shoveled 105 bills into minutes. But, with all this reckless haste to make a record, the first session of the Fifty-first Congress enacted only 133 private pension bills. These became tricts, Italy, Hungary and Polish-Russia laws with President Harrison's apfor example, and extending the limit to proval. Compare this 133 bills with the 849 of the first session of the Fifty-first Congress or even with the 747 bills which became laws at the first session of the Democratic Fiftieth Congress, and it is seen who is to blame for the apparently fewer number of bills approved by Pres-

NATURE'S DYE WORKS.

A Crystal Stream Blondines Hair and Rouges Cheeks.

Had Ponce De Leon, in his search for the "fountain of youth," wended his way to Little Sandy, Elliott county, at a point about nine miles from here, and a point about nine miles from here, and for return twenty days from date of sale. plunged beneath the placid waters of The O. and M. is the direct fast line to all Red spring, he might not have had his days prolonged until now, but most certain it is his color would have been changed to a bright crimson.

On the Frese Hardin farm the Red spring is located, and for years has been used by the old ladies in that vicinity to color their carpet rugs, by the young ladies to color their dress goods and ribbons and to blondine their hair. The water of this spring looks as clear as crystal and is remarkably cold at this season of the year, much more so than the water of wells in that vicinity.

This water is much used at the approach of Easter Sunday to color eggs, and a strange thing about it is the difference in color upon articles of different quality or substance. The hair it blondines, colors eggs, ribbons and dress goods a crimson red, the flesh of persons a light blood red. The color is permanent in both cotton and silk goods dyed by the water. The blondining of the hair generally lasts about three weeks, while a person who bathes in its waters is given a coat that lasts about

Soap applied to any article dyed by the water but strengthens the intensity of the color. People for miles around come and carry the water away in bottles, jugs and barrels, to use in dying various articles. A family by the name of Brand, whose numbers are quite large, and whose color has always been a phenomenon, is now explained, it is believed, by their having always used the water for drinking and bathing purposes. So long have they used it, says election. a dispatch from Greenup, Ky., to the Cincinnati Commercial Galette, that its qualities seem to have permeated their systems, and its effects are seen in their progeny to the fourth generation. They have known of this spring for years, and for a long time kept its qualities a secret, but it was divulged recently by a young man who had mar-ried into the family.

MARSHMALLOW ROASTS.

The Latest Diversion to Amuse the En.

nuted Summer Girl, Marshmallow roasts are announced as the latest thing in the way of summer resort diversions, says the Buffalo Commercial. The simplicity of this form of amusement is particularly charming. One buys two or three pounds of marshmallows, invites half a dozen friends, and that is all the preparation required. However, a small amount of kindling wood must be taken along with which to build a small fire in an unfrequented spot on the beach, away from crowds unfamiliar with so refined a species of entertainment. When the fire is blazing merrily, or, better still, when it has died down to red embers, each member of the party takes a sharpened stick and affixes upon the end of it a marshmallow, Simultaneously all those engaged hold their marshmallows over the embers, as close as possible to avoid burning, and roast them carefully, turning the sticks around dexterously, so as to brown the marshmallows nicely on all sides. This requires some skill, because marshmallows are highly inflammable and will WANTED-Man to take care of office and take fire if not very prudently handled. The most interesting point about the process is that the marshmallows in slowly roasting swell up to considerable slowly roasting swell roasting slowly roasting swell up to considerably more than their normal size. When done they are morsels for the gods, resembling in flavor the most excellent meringue, with a delicious nutty and crusty outside. They are a sort of sublimated combination of candy and cake, all in one bite, though the proper fashion is to nibble the roasted marshmallow off the end of the stick. One set consumed, each person pokes the point of his wooden skewer through another marshmallow, and the performance is repeated until everybody's appetite is satisfied. Marshmallow roasts are an excellent medium for flirtation, mutual regard between a young lady and a young gentleman being appropriately exhibited by nibbling the marshmal-lows off each other's sticks. Accordingly the idea is sure to grow in favor.

No little excitement was created in one of the London metropolitan police courts the other day by the disgraceful behavior of a man who, on being sentenced to three months' imprisonment for swindling, looked at the judges for a moment, and then shouted at the top of his voice: "You are a set of donkeys!"
